"In today's culture, absolute truth is considered irrelevant or intolerant, and individuals define 'truth' as whatever they choose to believe. Amy Fata debunks such relativism and presents biblical truth in a way that matters to me."

BIO

Amy Fata has been singing publicly since age three. She is the Director of Worship at Harbour Shores Church in Cicero, Indiana, along with her husband Patrick. Their music ministry has taken them across the states and throughout Europe. The Fatas have produced six albums and continue to compose songs for the body of Christ.

Amy's passion for music is surpassed only by her passion for studying Scripture and sharing its truths through speaking and writing. She launched Matters Ministry in 2021 to inspire her sisters in Christ to defeat deception through their union with Him.

Amy lives in Noblesville, IN, with her Frenchman, their two teenage daughters, and a good "boy" named Tempo.

MATTERS MINISTRY

Matters Ministry supports churches who desire to see the female sheep of the flock flourish. We offer in-person speaking, facilitator training and support, as well as tools for growth, such as curriculum, audio teaching sessions, and worship music. Two Word-centered, life-transforming studies are available: Truth Matters and Gratefulness Matters.

Matters Ministry encourages women believers with the Word of God, equipping them to live out their union with Jesus Christ in order to fulfill their unique purpose for the sake of His church. Christ in us means we are free from anxious or ambiguous living. We lack nothing in Him!

STUDIES

TRUTH MATTERS is a twelve-week course that includes a workbook, audio devotionals, worship music, and small group facilitator materials. This study helps women embrace their union with Christ in order to uncover blind spots and defeat deceptive thinking.

GRATEFULNESS MATTERS

is a study comprising twelve reminders that inspire women to answer their call to gratitude. We do not do this life alone! We have Christ in us, making our transformation possible. When we live out our union with Him, gratitude becomes a present and powerful support for our great full nests.

TESTIMONIALS

“Truth Matters has depth and breadth that make it one of the best women’s studies I have experienced. The focus on the preeminence of Christ, the down-to-earth relevance of the topics, and the abundant use of Scripture contribute to its uniqueness. All the women and teen girls of our church came together for this study. Not sure how we will top it.”
—Sara Whitehouse, Women’s Ministry Director, Noblesville Baptist Church

“I thought I knew how Gratefulness Matters would read. I was wrong. Beyond the predictable, this study shines a light on undetected heart issues such as control, entitlement, priorities, materialism, and insecurity. Each Gratefulness Reminder offers an unexpected perspective on our call to gratitude. Considering who Christ is, what He does, and who we are in Him inspires a renewed commitment to gratefulness. This mindset is life-altering!”
—Becky Starett, Women’s Ministry Director, Open Bible Church

"This study has reminded me of areas in my life that I have known about for a long time but struggled to overcome. I am encouraged to persevere."

"I have finally agreed to begin biblical counseling and address life-long issues that I have avoided until now."

"I don't want to give up my daily routine with this study. It has become sacred to me."

"I found myself sobbing as I kneeled next to my couch. How have I lived my entire life unaware of my sin issues? It was time to give them over to the Lord."

"Amy is one of those rare finds. When you join one of her Bible studies or listen to her speak, you find a woman who takes very seriously her responsibility to "rightly divide" God's Word. You also find a woman of great insight and wisdom who can bring those truths to bear on so many aspects of practical living." –Sara

"This was my chance to nail my insecurity to the cross. I have learned to deeply depend on Him to overcome my weaknesses."

"Truth Matters is helping me look past my surface struggles and address where my heart and mind are truly focused."

"There is no way to adequately describe all the ways God has used this book in my life. I am changed!"

"I plan to immediately start over and do the entire study again. Several of us want to! There is so much to glean and we know we will find more as we go through it again."

"If you're avoiding divine conviction, avoid this study!" –Rachel

"God revealed three people I needed to forgive." –Jelaine

"This study is amazing! Every woman needs this!" –Cassie

"Truth Matters is exactly what I needed." –Melissa

"The prioritization of the authority of the Word is refreshing." –Jann

"This is the first ladies Bible study that I want to pick up every day." –Lisa

"This is not a self-help study; it is a why-we-need-to-see-clearly study so that our hearts can align with Christ." –Vicki

"This is the first women's Bible study that I have discussed with my husband, and we talk about it all the time." –Nancy

"Ladies will be far more fit for kingdom service after spending time with Amy Fata and Truth Matters!

Amy is a true sister in arms—striving herself and effectively training and motivating others to glorify God through many common life issues in which we all typically fall short. This study is an equipping, cleansing, and joy-producing experience!" –René
